

Old Main Corridor Project: 4th Avenue plan between 9th and 10th Streets

Pictured is the city's Old Main Corridor revitalization plan for 4th Avenue between 9th and 10th streets, developed by Stantec of Charleston. Charles Holley, Huntington's director of development and planning, said the city plans on reducing the number of traffic lanes from four to three, including a turning lane, and expanding the sidewalks to allow for an outdoor plaza showcasing the downtown's historic architecture.

